

A new tool, American Conservation and Stewardship Atlas, is being planned for development to support the America the Beautiful Initiative with intent to reflect baseline information on the lands and waters that are conserved or restored.

Public Comment Period Open Until March 7

- ❖ Science and Data: data sources (e.g., NFHP Projects), technical approaches...
- ❖ Conservation as a Continuum: how to reflect meaningful conservation work already underway in America
- ❖ Outcomes: how to reflect land and water contributions to biodiversity, climate change mitigation/resilience...
